South Plains College Crosbyton Center to offer real estate courses

CROSBYTON – South Plains College offers a two-year program in real estate designed to provide students with a broad base of educational and practical experience which will enable them to function effectively and efficiently in the real estate industry.

Students who satisfactorily complete the curriculum will receive an Associate of Applied Science Degree. All courses have been approved by the Texas Real Estate Commission. Upon completion of the courses, candidates are eligible to take the state licensing examination to earn a Texas Real Estate Salesman's license.

Courses starting at South Plains College Crosbyton Center this semester are:

RELE 1011 – Law of Contracts, Oct. 28 – Dec. 17 (Wednesdays) from 6-9:45 p.m.
RELE 1015 – Property Management, Oct. 29 – Dec. 19 (Thursdays) from 6-9:45 p.m.

To register, contact Jim Walker, dean of Continuing and Distance Education, at (806) 716-2340.
